Norfolk Island Ukulele Festival

In the vast South Pacific Ocean, majestic Norfolk Pines stand alongside a truly special Polynesian blend of culture, language, music and history.

Uke players and musicians of all levels are invited to attend. The "cultural stew" of Aussies, Kiwis and Maori singers, join with Bounty Pitcairn descendants with their unique culture, Norf'k language songs and Island dancers.

Enjoy playing at scenic locations – a boat trip on Emily Bay, the Kingston historical area of the Penal settlements and on Norfolk's only roundabout. Besides interesting workshops and Island rhythms, invitations will be given to perform at the Hospital, White Oaks, School, Churches and the local markets. Each country will also be invited to show their talents at the Ukulele Showcase night.
