First Fleet Celebrations

With the arrival of 23 'First Fleeters' on the 6th of March 1788, Norfolk Island became the second NSW colony settlement.

Their lives and the others' who joined them to settle Norfolk were rugged, through sheer grit and determination they survived the wrecking of HMS Sirius – flagship of the First Fleet – which left both Sydney and Norfolk Island on starvation rations.

Of particular resonance to First Fleet descendants, this week will also be of great interest to anyone who wants to discover the fascinating people and events that stemmed from the 6th of March 1788 on Norfolk Island, now known as 'Foundation Day'.
