Belinda Biggs

Belinda Biggs has gained international recognition due to her prize-winning illustrations of the natural world, but is inspired to paint the beautiful scenery of Norfolk Island. She teaches regular classes and workshops around Australia, Norfolk Island, Italy, Rarotonga, New Zealand, India, France and the United Kingdom, which are regularly booked out.

Her works are treasured in private and public collections worldwide. Her painting NSW Waratah, exhibited in the prestigious 'Focus on Nature XIII' at the New York State Museum was recently acquired by the museum for their permanent collection. Belinda has been selected once again to exhibit in New York – 'Focus on Nature XV'. In addition, she has recently been included in the German publication, 'Who's Who in Visual Arts – 50 Masters of Realistic Imagery'!

Belinda is also a respected and sought-after local painting teacher and has lead ten successful annual 'Belinda Biggs Painting Holidays' on Norfolk Island. As an artist she is passionate about Norfolk:

"I just love it, everywhere you look there is something to be painted"

With an incredible range of panoramas to choose from, there is literally no end of inspiration, with easy access to almost every type of landscape. Here you will find dramatic land and seascapes, rugged clifftops, secluded bays and beaches, evocative convict ruins, lush rainforests and stunning flora.

Belinda caters to all skill levels, students and artists who joined her last trip ranging from beginners to the more proficient. As an experienced artist herself in watercolour, graphite, pen and wash, acrylics and colour pencil, Belinda is able to teach all these methods.

With a maximum size of 12 painters + partners, Belinda is now taking bookings for her October 2020 Norfolk Island trip

Partners & Friends who do not wish to participate in the painting workshop are very welcome to come along; there is plenty to do on beautiful Norfolk Island whilst painters are out in the field.
